

Scenic, Wild Delaware River Geotourism Program

Hi Everyone,

The County of Warren is pleased to announce that it is working with the National Park Conservation Association and National Geographic on an exciting new tourism initiative.

The Scenic, Wild Delaware River Geotourism Project will create a National Geographic Society co-branded interactive website of the upper and middle Delaware River region that identifies natural, cultural, and historic attractions that make our area unique.

An Opportunity for You!

Residents, visitors, community organizations, tourism stakeholders and local businesses are asked to nominate sites for potential inclusion in a co-branded National Geographic Society website of the Scenic, Wild Delaware River. The nomination process is not only simple and easy to use, but virtually all nominations will be accepted. This is a terrific opportunity to put your favorite place on the map!

Warren County is a natural gateway to the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area and the Scenic, Wild Delaware River. This regional destination not only hosts between 4 and 5 million visitors each year, but it generates $219 million in sales annually for area businesses. By nominating your site, this National Geographic project will help you connect with those visitors for free!

To browse the website or to begin nominating, please visit: www.delawariver.natgeotourism.com

For more information about how to nominate your local business, venue, historic site, park, or other destination of interest, please see the attached guidelines and fact sheet. In addition, please feel free to contact John Beljean with the National Park Conservation Association at (570) 460-4468 or jbeljean@npca.org

And/or plan to attend our public outreach meeting to be held at 9:00 am on Tuesday January 5, 2016 at:
